VOLUME XIII

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY MARCH 9, 1910.

NUMBER 18

Entertains in Honor of Miss Harrison.

Last Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5, Mrs. W. A. Coffey in her usual happy way entertained for her sister, Miss Lorena Harrison of Ashley, Ill. Lost Heir was the principal feature and delightful refreshments were served during the evening. The invited were: Misses Alice Walker, Myrtle Myres, Jennie McFarland, Mary Cartwright, Madge and Lina Rosenfield, Elizabeth Rowe, Mary Triplett, Mary Miller, Dimple Conover, Annie Dixon, Frances Jones, Mesdames, A. D. Patterson, Joe Coffey, John Coffey.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. C. M. Russell was the hostess of a merry crowd, the occasion being a "Lost Heir party." A delightful salad course was served and the evening a very enjoyable one. The invited were:

Misses Sallie and Mamie Baker, Minnie Triplett, Frances Jones, Alice Walker, Jennie McFarland, Myrtle Myres, Annie Dixon, Lorena Harrison, Edna Lewis, Dimple Conover, Lina and Madge Rosenfield.

The "Sewing Club" delightfully entertained by Miss Frances Jones on Wednesday afternoon at her pretty home on Greensburg St. Several musical selections were given, among them a duet by Misses Walker and Myres, a solo by Miss Rosenfield and Mrs. Lowe. Refreshments were served and the time passed all too soon. Her guests included:

Misses Mary Cartwright, Lorena Harrison, Alice Walker, Jennie McFarland, Annie Dixon, Myrtle Myres, Elizabeth Rowe, Dimple Conover, Madge and Lina Rosenfield, Edna Lewis, Martha Hancock, Amanda Butler, Mabel Jasper, Mary Miller, Mesdames Bruce Montgomery and Geo. Lowe.

The Reed Hardware Company has a new "ad" this week. Look over it and visit the store.

The Debate.

The debate and other exercises drew a large crowd at the Lindsey-Wilson Chapel last Saturday evening. The program was entertaining throughout, and the students who appeared were highly complimented. "Ole Mistis," by Miss Pelly, was well received; the Journal, read by Miss Gabbert, contained many spicy hits, and the musical selections, by Misses Hodges and Howard were charmingly rendered. The debate, however, was of special interest. The speakers were from the two rival societies, the Frogg and Columbian. D. H. Lyon and Eugene Hawk represented the former and M. R. Gabbert and Fred Rainwater the latter. The question discussed was, Resolved, "That the Death penalty should be abolished." Gabbert and Rainwater affirmed and won the question. The speeches on both sides were argumentative and delivered admirably. The Judges were T. L. Hulse, James Garrett and J. W. Flowers.

Watch for the News next week. Russell & Co's. Big Opening "Ad" will appear.

W. A. Coffey, Master Commissioner, made the following land sales last Monday: The Curd property to Sam Lewis $2,925; the school lot north of the square to Albert Stapp for $1400; Murray vs Murray, 83 acres to Henry Hurt, $1610; Strong Hill vs Compton, 30 acres to Strong Hill $150; Coomer vs Compton, 15 acres, to J. H. Kinnaird, $91.00; Wilkerson vs Bybee, 100 acres to S. V. Wilkerson and Hiram Jackman, $591.58; L. F. Hadley vs Chapman heirs 80 acres, to L. F. Hadley and wife, $400; J. H. Young vs Mary Jones, 90 acres to J. E. Burton, $1036.

The common school house in West Columbia was knocked off to the highest bidder Monday. It brought $875, but the bid was rejected. J. T. Page bought of the J. S. Stapp estate 189 acres of land, on Sulphur Fork for $240.

Every farmer should take advantage of this beautiful weather by putting in a crop of oats. They would be a great help in the "nie of time" from their maturity until the corn matures. Don't forget that the corn you use during that time will not be less than $5 per barrel.

Mr. A. S. Chewing has secured the services of Jim Davis, of color, an experienced handle of horses, one of the best drivers and trainers in the State. He will be ready to receive stock for breaking at Mr. Chewing's barn, this place, the first of April. Charges reasonable. 18-4t

Yesterday was a great day for business generally in Columbia. Every body seemed to be busy and property of every sort sold well.

Taylor-Andrews Nuptials Announced.

The Louisville Courier-Journal of recent date contains the following: Mrs. F. J. Taylor of Glasgow, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Frances Clarissa Taylor, to Mr. Arthur Ravenel Andrews of Terrell, Tex. The wedding will take place in the early spring. Miss Taylor is a daughter of the late Dr. F. J. Taylor, and in well-known in this city, having often visited her brother, Mr. J. Frank Taylor, collector for customs.

Commenting upon it the Glasgow, (Ky.) Times says: Miss Clara Taylor, the bride-to-be mentioned in the above, is one of the most popular and attractive young ladies in Glasgow. The groom is a prosperous and prominent young business man of the Lone Star state. The many friends of both contracting parties—especially those of the charming Glasgow bride—will wish them all happiness in their marriage.

The announcement as given above will be read with much interest locally and the numerous friends of the groom elect will congratulate him upon the good fortune that has befallen him. This engagement is the culmination of a courtship that has extended over several years, the bride-to-be having made several visits here to her aunt, Mrs. F. M. Phillips, and it was on the occasion of her recent visit here during the holidays that Cupid set his seal of approval on the little romance. Miss Taylor has made a wide circle of friends here during her visits to Terrell where she became a favorite in social circles. —Terrell Texas Daily Transcript.

To the Farmers and stock raisers of Adair and adjoining counties: I am at the same old stand with two good horses and two good Jacks. My Jacks have proved themselves extra breeders. One six the other seven dollars to insure a live colt. Black Diamond has proved himself an extra breeder nine-tenths of his colts natural gaited, fine style and size and good action. He will make the season at eight dollars. Last but not least come Red Bird, Jr., which no doubt carries more of the Lexington's blood than any of old Red Bird's colts. Red Bird was by Jo Brown; he by old Lexington, first dam Emma Henson, second Dexter. He by old Lexington, second grand dam Wallace Miller, fine saddle mare, her dam old Elastic enough and good enough, to see him is to admire him. He is 16 hand high, rich blood bay, and as near perfect model as this country affords. Mr. H. M. Henson, of Danville, Ky., who is a horse and Jack dealer and who is acquainted with the fine Blue grass horses pronounced Red Bird, Jr. the best fore-hand horse he ever saw. Take it for what it is worth and come to see for yourself. Many thanks for past favors, and future ones solicited. Solomon McFarland.

The case of the Commonwealth against William Pierce and his son, Walter, who are indicted for murder and are charged with killing Taylor Sullivan at Denmark, on election day, was continued until the 2nd day of the June term of the Russell circuit court. The defendants were removed to the jail of Adair county for safe keeping. Mr. Clay Sullivan, the jailer of Russell county, is an uncle of the dead man and he joined in the request for the removal. The Pierces were unable to employ counsel to defend them and the court appointed R. E. Lloyd, of Jamestown, and Rollin Hurt and Jas. Garrett, of Columbia, to represent the defendants. The Commonwealth is represented by A. A. Huddleston, Commonwealth Attorney, J. N. Meadows, County Attorney, O. B. Bertram, Lilburn Phelps, and J. H. Stone of Jamestown, and N. H. W. Aaron, of Monticello.

Born, to the wife of R. W. Walker, Cleburne, Texas, February 26, 1910, a nine pound son. In a few minutes after his arrival this youngster wrote his grandfather, Judge H. C. Baker, of this place, telling of his advent, weight, etc., and making a complaint as to the diet he was receiving. To which the Judge responded, giving him some wholesome advice, admonishing him to honor his father and mother that his days might be long in the land of the living.

Mrs. John C. Calhoun died near Campbellsville last Saturday night. Only a few weeks ago Mr. Calhoun and family removed from Milltown, this county, to Taylor county.

DEATH OF DR. H. C. JACKMAN.

The End Came at Ingram, N. M., February 24, 1910, After an Illness of 28 Hours.

KNOWN TO A GREAT MANY COLUMBIANS

Dr. Jackman was born in or near Creelsboro, in Russell county, Kentucky, April 2, 1844; and there he lived the greater part of a long and most useful life. In the capacity of practicing physician, he was well known throughout several counties in all of which he will long be remembered, both as the attentive doctor and the kind friend. The passing generation and the one now in its prime will alike mourn the death of one of those whom no one was more esteemed by those who knew him.

For many years a Mason, the funeral services were conducted under the auspices of that order, and the remains interred in Elida cemetery.

The deceased is survived by a widow and 3 sons, all of whom were present at his death. To the survivors, his friends extend the hand of sympathy, parting in silent understanding.

"There is no Death, what seems so is transition. This life of mortal breath, is but a suburb of the elysian, Whose portal we call Death." F. C. Smith.

Adult Bible Class Organized.

At the Presbyterian church on last Sunday afternoon an Adult Bible Class organization was effected. The class will meet each Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock—just after the prayer meeting hour. The class starts with a membership of fifteen. Others have signified their purpose to unite with the class, so it is probable that the class will begin work with a membership of twenty or more. Rev. J. R. Crawford was chosen teacher with Capt. W. W. Bradshaw and Mrs. Georgia Shelton, Assistants. The methods of work and organization of the International Adult Class will be followed.

H. & W. paint guaranteed 100 per cent pure. Reed Hardware Co.

The Light Plant.

The people of Columbia were very much gratified last Friday night when the electric lights again came on after the town had been in darkness for six weeks. Messrs Ballard & Murrell, the owners of the plant, sent the dynamo to Louisville where it remained under the care of a skilled electrician for one month. When it was returned it was the means of furnishing stronger and brighter lights than at any time in the past. It is an admitted fact that Columbia can not well get along without an electric light plant, and it is also the general opinion of this community that every family who is able should support the enterprise. The proprietors have been at considerable expense and they are soon to make a greater outlay of money in building an electric house in which to keep the plant, and they should be met with prompt and substantial encouragement. We hope that those who are not taking lights will apply for them at once. It is an enterprise that must be supported, an enterprise that the business men and citizenship generally can not do without.

The will of the late J. J. Biggs was probated in the Adair County Court last Monday. His entire estate, real and personal, goes to his wife during her life time. At the death of Mrs. Biggs the decedent's estate goes to his heirs and his wife's heirs at law. Mrs. Biggs is made the executor without bond.

Two Horses Killed in R.R. Accident

Last Thursday afternoon Claud Edrington, who runs a team between Columbia and Campbellsville landed in the latter place with a load of chickens, shipped from the Columbia branch of the Northern Egg and Poultry Company. It was about 5 o'clock, and as a train was not due until 9, Mr. Edrington drove on to the switch and was preparing to unload, when suddenly a special made its appearance, ran into the wagon, killed the two horses, destroyed a number coops and killed quite a lot of chickens for the poultry company.

It is believed that Mr. Edrington and the poultry company will recover from the L & N R.R. Co.

Every kind of garden tools can be bought of Reed Hardware Co.

In Wonderful Meeting.

Rev. A. L. Mell, who was recently pastor of the Glendale and Sonora Methodist churches, is in a great protracted meeting at Beaver Dam, his new home. He is doing the preaching himself and has had 75 conversions most of whom have been the heads of families. It is said that few more remarkable meetings have been held in the state than this one. —E-Town News.

To whom it may concern:—

Just ten days ago I had the misfortune to lose my residence and contents by fire, and same being insured in the Continental Insurance Co., the loss has this day been adjusted by the Company's adjuster Mr. Foster, together with Murrell & Miller the local Agents, and I take much pleasure in saying that the loss was this day paid in full in cash with no discount whatever.

Very Respectfully,
E. L. Feese.

Our Irvin Store correspondent gives an account of the death of Mr. R. P. Smith, a popular citizen of Russell county. The deceased had a great many acquaintances in this place, and was a member of Columbia Chapter, R. A. M., No. 7. The letter from Irvin's Store was the first intelligence of his death to be received here. He was a man who will be greatly missed from the community in which he lived.
